Thanks to Toaster for the maps.

Welcome home!

When the 2022 Black Rock City census came out, the data showed that only 60% of the population identifies as “straight” or “heterosexual.” That means at this point 40% of the city is queer in some way! We’re in for the queerest year ever at Burning Man.

This year there are about 50 LGBTQIA+ camps on playa, who are putting on so many events you can’t possibly see them all, ranging the gamut from Sober Hours to Meditation to Make Out Parties to Circle Jerks ... and that’s just Monday.

Burning Man truly is world FOMO headquarters, and you can genuinely keep busy all week without seeing 10% of everything there is to see. But there is some great stuff going on here. The best of Burning Man, in our opinion, is not in the mega parties or the huge crowds of DJ-chasers – it’s in the back streets, in the little camps. Going to some kind of “Is It Good With Cheese” event, where people are trying different foods to see which ones taste better with cheese, is probably going to change your life. Trust me on this one.

Take a minute, go through this guide with your highlighter, pick some things that look amazing. Then grab those cute burgins in your camp and say, “Want to go on an adventure?” and bring them to something that will blow their mind. It is OK if you get distracted or lost on the way.

When you’re out in deep playa, don’t forget to check out this year’s queer art installations, too. Queerburners has grants available if you want to bring something next year.

Queerburners needs your help!

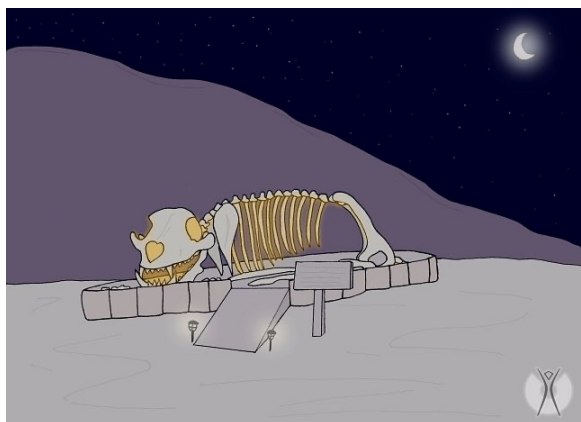

Queerburners is a small, all-volunteer, non-profit organization that provides online forums for LGBTQIA+ burners, the Queerburners directory, this events guide, and annual grants for artists and theme camps. In the past we have had leadership summits and events, too, and hope to do more of that in the future... but we need you! Check out our website at queerburners.org to see what’s going on, then email us at info@queerburners.org or drop into our Discord server (<https://discord.gg/wxchCU7Qgh>) to make contact. We’d love to meet you!

My Body, My Home

by: Ray Frost & the Coyote Crew
from: Reno, NV

My Body, My Home is a larger-than-life coyote skeleton participants can climb inside. She represents resilience and survival – she lived through her worst traumas and died peacefully of old age. This project is meant to remind participants that they have all survived their worst traumas and offers them a place to leave a reminder of those traumas so they can let them go and move forward without them.

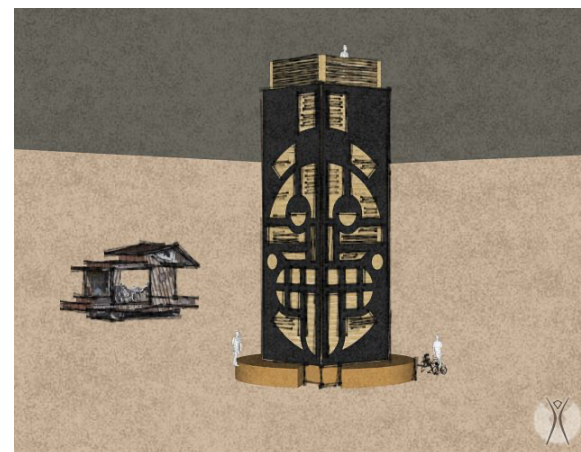

2023 Queerburners Grant Recipient

The Lovers (T4T)

by: Little Arcana Arts Collective
from: San Francisco, CA

The Lovers (T4T) is a larger-than-life tarot card and a queer reimagining of the classic Rider-Waite scene. The art celebrates the natural diversity in sex and sexual expression that humans share with many animals. In tarot, The Lovers card represents love, unity and connection. Often interpreted as romantic love, it also means self-love, community connection, and finding harmony within oneself. The Lovers (T4T) is about trans love, community support, celebrating trans beauty and joy in a world that tries to strangle it. This art is a message of belonging on open playa, and a love letter to queer and trans burners to feel seen and represented.

Nosotres

by: Brenden Darby, Simón Malvaez, Ollie Newth, Evan Connelly, Sergio Garrido-Ramirez, Cruz Ramirez
from: San Francisco, CA

NOSOTRES is a monument to the ancient history of the queer community. Standing at 50' tall with depictions of nonbinary faces and Mictlan (The Aztec Underworld) this evolution of our 2022 Burning Man Piece, THEM, serves as a reminder that queer people have been here since the beginning of time. Queerness represents our past, present and future and we honor the many deaths of our past selves that help us move forward.

Queerborhood Maps

by Scott "Toaster" Kay

LGBTQAI+ Camps are camps where a majority of the camp identifies as LGBTQAI+. These camps exist for safety and community representation and are all radically inclusive agents of the Burning Man Culture as a whole.

This is not an official map from Burning Man. Camps positioned here are approximate and are derived from the Queerburners Directory.

queerburners.org/directory

Ally Camps are community partners and might have Queer people represented, however they do not create events that represent queer culture as a focus of their mission. Ally camps will provide shelter and safe space for marginalized people in need.
